“ Electa was truly a steady, stalwart and calming presence in our family. In fact, she was indeed a member of our family. In particular, she was quite the disciplinarian; but hers was tough love.

She could take a damp dishtowel, hold it by both hands, spin it into a short cord, and then wield it like a bullwhip which would raise such a whelp on my backside that it would command my attention for several hours thereafter. Fact is, it only took a few such encounters to tame me. From then on, all Electa had to say was "If you keep on, I'm gonna pop you one!" And that's all it took. I would behave like an angel for several hours thereafter.

One bond that she and I closely shared was our faith in, and the anticipation of, the return of our Lord Jesus. Her dedication to her walk with Him and her service to Him at Thankful Baptist Church stands as an example for us all; and is the cause of her great rejoicing even now in His presence in Heaven!

We will see her again, very soon.

“ Electa came into my life when I was two or three and she always there. She was a wonderful care giver not only for her own mother but for my mother. She was as loyal and loving as any person I have ever known. Rest in peace Electa and thank you.

“ Electa Young was one of the most important people in my life. She was talented, smart, had a great sense of humor, was an extraordinary cook, caring, honorable, stalwart, fair, spiritual and very wise. When I returned home, I would go because I wanted to see my mother and father, my brother and I wanted to see Electa.

I send my condolences to Electa's family and friends I know you will miss her very much like me.
