“ *To Mary Joyce's Family,
Words fall short of expressing my sorrow for your loss, if hugs were strong enough to take away your pain, I would start hugging you now and never stop...Brenda Hodge Davis*

“ *Sharing in your sadness as you remember Mary Joyce. I am sorry I couldn't make it today to celebrate her life. I will never forget having my makeup done by a coworker of hers for my senior prom and her always calling me "cat woman."
With sympathy,

“ So sorry to hear about your loss. I met Mary at Agape' Rehab when my husband spent 3 months there there beginning January 13, 2016. Mary's room was just a few doors down from my husband's, and Mary and I had lots of opportunities to talk and visit. We became good friends, talking many times about eternity and where we would spend it. We enjoyed an oriental salad from Cranberries My prayers for comfort are with all of you. several times, and when Mary became unable to eat the salad, I told her I would not have our salad again until she could share it with me. We were never able to share that meal again. Sometimes when Mary would be down and out, I could visit her and make her smile again. She called my husband "Elvis" because he wore dark sunglasses all the time, and I became "Mrs. Elvis" to her. I am so sorry I did not get to see her but once or twice after my husband was discharged, but I will never forget the good times we had, nor the bad. There will never be another person like her! She loved you all, and was so so proud of that little granddaughter! I am praying for comfort for you!

“ So sorry that i am not able to be there today. I loved Mary Joyce like a sister and was so glad to see her when I came home in September this year. Patsy and I were able to get her to smile quiet a bit that day. My prayers are with the family today and always.
